POULTRYMEN TO MEET

A study of possible ways in which poultrymen can prepare to meet the emergency will be made by a committee of poultry producers in this section when they meet at the Virginia hotel in Lynchburg, Wednesday evening, February 18, at 7 o'clock.

"The huge goals set by the Secretary of Agriculture in September will be topped by still larger demands," M. H. Hope, of Southern States Cooperative, who will be one of the speakers, pointed out. "Farmers are sharpening their pencils and looking to their resources for the spring drive in the present emergency. The armed forces of the richest country on earth will have eggs for breakfast and chicken on Sunday if American poultrymen can furnish them."

The committee will include groups from Campbell, Appomattox and Pittsylvania counties.

CROP LOANS

For the convenience of Appomattox county farmers applications for crop loans will be accepted at the county agent's office at Appomattox every Thursday from 10:00 and 12:00. Field supervisor Tyree C. Wright of the Elmore-Crop and Feed Loan office has announced.

He stated that those farmers who are eligible for crop loans up to $400 at a 4 per cent interest, without inspection fee for the purpose of taking advantage of cash prices for seed, fertilizer, and to cover costs of production of 1942 crops.
